Canada

Canada is one of the world's great snow holiday destinations, known for spectacular scenery, reliable snowfall and remarkable variety on and off the mountain.

Banff and Lake Louise, set within the breathtaking wilderness of Banff National Park, offer expansive terrain, stunning alpine views and an unforgettable sense of place, complemented by the vibrant town of Banff and the quieter, more secluded setting of Lake Louise.

Across British Columbia, the experience shifts to deeper snow, diverse resort towns and a more adventurous feel. Whistler Blackcomb delivers scale, energy and world leading infrastructure, while Sun Peaks offers a relaxed, family friendly alternative with true ski in, ski out convenience. The Powder Highway links destinations such as Revelstoke, Kicking Horse, Fernie, RED Mountain, Whitewater and Panorama, where abundant snowfall, uncrowded slopes and varied terrain create a more immersive and rewarding ski experience.

For those looking to go beyond the resort boundaries, Canada is also home to some of the world's most renowned heli skiing and backcountry terrain, offering access to vast, untouched alpine landscapes. Combined with consistently high quality accommodation and a welcoming mountain culture, Canada delivers a snow holiday that can be tailored from iconic and scenic to adventurous and off the beaten path.

Europe

Europe offers a snow holiday experience that is as much about culture and atmosphere as it is about skiing itself.

Across France, Italy, Switzerland and Austria, the diversity is unmatched. France is home to vast interconnected ski areas such as the Three Valleys, offering incredible scale and seamless access between resorts. Italy's Dolomites combine perfectly groomed terrain with exceptional food and a relaxed pace, while Switzerland delivers iconic mountain scenery and refined alpine luxury. In Austria, skiing is paired with a lively après scene and a strong sense of tradition in its welcoming alpine villages.

What sets Europe apart is the experience beyond the slopes. Ski days are complemented by long lunches, scenic lift journeys and charming, historic villages that have evolved into world class ski destinations. For travellers looking to explore multiple regions in one trip, Europe offers both variety and depth, creating a snow holiday that feels immersive, social and distinctly different to anywhere else in the world.

USA

Snow holidays in the USA are defined by variety, from the refined alpine luxury of Colorado to the dramatic landscapes and dry powder of Utah.

In Colorado, Aspen Snowmass sets the benchmark for a premium ski experience, combining four distinct mountains with exceptional dining, shopping and cultural experiences. Utah offers some of the most consistent snowfall in North America, with Deer Valley renowned for its impeccable service and Park City delivering extensive terrain, lively après and one of the country's most vibrant mountain towns.

Further north, Montana and Wyoming bring a more rugged, authentic character, where big mountain terrain and a sense of cowboy spirit sit alongside remarkable scenery and warm Western hospitality. In California, destinations such as Lake Tahoe combine expansive skiing with sunshine, lake views and a more relaxed, social atmosphere.

Across all regions, the USA is known for its outstanding ski schools and kids programs, making it ideal for families, along with a level of hospitality and thoughtful service that sets it apart. From luxury hotels and slopeside convenience to memorable on mountain dining and elevated finishing touches throughout the journey, the USA delivers a polished and highly enjoyable snow holiday experience.
